Two Rapes, One Arrest

Two Yorba Linda girls, one 12 and one 17, reported being forcibly raped during the past week.

In the more recent incident, the 12-year-old told police she was riding her horse westbound on Bastanchury approaching Plumosa shortly after 5 Saturday evening when a light-blue pick-up truck with a ladder rack pulled up beside her. The man driving the truck asked her how to get to Eureka.

Although the girl told the man to continue westward a couple of blocks, the driver, described as white, 40-50, 5 feet 5 inches to 5 feet 8 inches, heavy-set, and balding with gray and black hair, turned around and headed back east.

Shortly, the girl told police, the truck returned. This time the driver wanted her to dismount and point the street out on a map.

When she did so, she said, the man got out, thrust a screwdriver into her ribs, and forced her behind a bush.

The assault finished, the girl continued, the man told her to get on her horse and ride into a nearby orange grove. As she did this, she noticed him return to his truck and drive westward toward Imperial Highway.

The girl then rode home and told her parents, who called police.

Tuesday last week the older girl reported she was waiting at a bus stop near Orange Mall to catch a bus home when a youth in a red Volkswagen pulled up and asked if she wanted a ride. When she gave him her address, he agreed to take her home.

The man then drove the girl to her residence—but then, instead of stopping, she said, he drove away at a high rate of speed, later estimated to have been about 50 mph, heading east on Yorba Linda Boulevard.

The girl now tried to get out of the car, but was deterred by its speed as well as the driver, who, she said, began striking her with his fist and threatening her life.

In this fashion, she continued, he ran at least two red lights, finally

Fiesta Days Vignettes

Observations on the many Fiesta Days activities.

...Electric cords snaking from booths into cooperating stores with harried members of organizations tripping in them as they prepared their booths.

...The crowded room in City Hall where members of the Service League and every possible person they could recruit blowing up balloons for other members and every possible person they could recruit to get out on the street and sell them.

...Members of Cub Scout Pack 778 rapidly becoming hoarse as they screamed "Popcorn and Peanuts."

...Everyone stopping momentarily at 9:40 a.m. as the call horn on the Fire Station sounded off. It sounded again at 12:05 p.m. just as the parade ended on Main Street. They went the other way both times.

...Announcer Ray Metzger exhorting the crowd to cheer the parade marchers and beseeching one of the bands to "let's hear your music."

...Some of the booths might not have sold out so quickly and may have made some more money had not the booth workers generously sampled their wares.

...If you didn't have your picture taken at some time during the day you must not be photogenic. There were enough cameras used and film shot to apparently insure a profit for the companies who make those items.

...Ever alert officers of the Brea Police Department keeping everything under control and communicating by walkie talkies.

...Fathers and mothers with babies in strollers, in backpacks, on shoulders, under arms and dragging little children along.

...Children waiting in long lines to get on the ferris wheel and then screaming with delight as it whirled around.

...People sharing their barbecue dinner with the bees in Nixon Park.

...Chamber members stretching the deadline for selling chances on the 1977 car by collaring people at the park.

...Maybe it was understandable to them but the Victor McLaglin Motor Corps disappointed thousands of parade watchers by failing to participate after informing parade officials five minutes before the start that they wouldn't ride behind horses.

...The war whoops of the hundreds of children with parents in the YMCA Indian Guides parade entries.

...The well trained 4-H'ers who swiftly cleaned up after the horse entries.

...The girls in the El Dorado Golden Hawk Band costumed as bags of jelly beans wearing large plastic bags filled with multi-colored balloons.

...Admiring looks and reminiscent remarks as various antique cars passed by in the parade.

...The expletive deleted remarks of this reporter as he had to drive over the sidewalk and bump down the curbing after finding the driveway blocked by a large camper.

Tommy John NL's 'Comeback of Year'

Employee May Appeal to Courts

There is a yearly award in baseball that usually receives an acceptance speech centering around the fact that the winner hopes he never has to win the award again.

The award is the "Comeback Player of the Year." For the 1976 season the National League winner was Yorba Linda's Tommy John. A panel of United Press International baseball correspondents from around the country gave the award to John over nine other nominees, including teammates Bill Buckner and Bill Russell.

Doctors felt John would never pitch again after suffering a ruptured ligament in his left elbow on July 17, 1974.

"I asked Dr. Frank Jobe what my chances were of ever pitching again and he said that he couldn't say whether or not I would," John related. "Then I asked him to rate it on a scale of one to 10, with 10 being serious. He told me it was about a 10 and that I should start looking around for things to do because he couldn't guarantee anything."

Tommy found something else to do during the 1975 season and that was working towards pitching in 1976, which he did quite effectively.

He had to overcome the effects of an operation in which doctors transplanted a tendon into the elbow and reproduced the ulnar nerve which had also been damaged.

There was nervous anticipation when he went to the mound for the first time shortly after the 1976 season opened. He had pitched in the Arizona instructional League and did well enough to be encouraged.

But that was not like facing a major league lineup. Tommy, his teammates, his employers and, in fact, all of baseball was watching him, literally and figuratively, when he made his first start on April 16.

He passed the test in that first game. Over the season he appeared in 31 games and compiled a 10-10 record. Six of the games were complete ones and he had an earned

2 Vacancies on Planning Commission

The Yorba Linda City Council is seeking applications from local residents to fill two seats on the Planning Commission.

The commission is composed of five members appointed by the council for four year terms. Regular meetings are held in the Multi-Purpose Room of the Yorba Linda District Library on the second and fourth Wednesday following the first and third Mondays at 7:30 p.m.

The function of the Planning Commission is to act as an advisory agency to the council on all matters relating to planning and community development.

The commission acts on such matters as General Plan considerations, zone changes, conditional use permits, variances, tentative tract maps, design reviews, sign requests, etc.

The commission works closely with the Planning Department headed by Planning Director Phil Paxton.

Any Yorba Linda citizen interested in serving on the Commission should complete and return a brief application to the City Clerk's Office no later than November 30.

Applications may be obtained at the City Hall, 4845 Main Street, or by contacting the City Clerk's office at 524-5000.

Ford Takes Yorba Linda

It wasn't the fault of Yorba Linda Republicans, or Democrats, that President Ford lost his office to Jimmy Carter.

Unofficial County returns gave Ford 6,407 votes against 2,818 for Carter. This is just a few short of the total GOP local registration of 6,620. Only 60% of the registered 4,662 Democrats evidently voted.

The Ford margin in Yorba Linda was about the same as that racked up throughout Orange County. The President got 63% of the vote and Carter 35%. Unofficial figures were 397,917 for Ford and 227,472 for Carter.

S.I. Hayakawa got a lot of help from Yorba Linda in his upset of Senator John Tunney. The figures were about the same as those in the presidential contest, 6,622 for the Republican and 2,881 for Tunney. This was a slightly higher percentage than Hayakawa got in the county totals.

A rough calculation revealed that about 80% of local voters went to the polls, or approximately 9,700 of the 12,100 registrants.

These voters went two to one for incumbent Republican Charles Wiggins over the challenge of Bill Farris for the 39th Congressional seat. Wiggins got 6,152 votes and Farris 3,233.

It was a bit closer for John Briggs, who relinquished his seat in the State Assembly for one in the State Senate. Republican Briggs took over James Whetmore's 35th District post by beating Paul Bell, 5,847 to 3,422 in Yorba Linda.

In the 70th Assembly District Bruce Nestande retained his seat swamping Pete Tornay 6,369 to 2,750 in Yorba Linda.

Robert Fitzgerald and Thomas Privette waged a razor close contest for municipal court judge in the North Judicial District. The former won by 389 votes. Yorba Linda favored Privette 4,447 to 3,684.

Along with the rest of the voters in the state local balloteers helped defeat Propositions 13 and 14. On 13 the vote here was 7,316 no and 2,356 yes. On 14 it was 7,296 no and 2,371 yes.

the inside story

Here's a taste of one of the biggest stories in the Orange League's season. Peter Bourke's account on Page 6 has all the details. For the story on Troy's win turn to Page 10 for Scott Emblidge's report.

The Sons of Italy celebrated Columbus birthday by choosing a queen and princesses. A Yorba Linda girl got the highest honor and several other local girls were in the running. The story is on Page 4.

Even if you're not a speed reader you can enjoy your leisure by taking advantage of the current Book Fair at Fairmont School. Details are under the photo on Page 5.

Other sports are in full flower but the Yorba Linda Little League Auxiliary is planning for next season. Check with the article on Page 9.

Page 11 is crammed with items of interest such as the name of the "GRIDIRON GUESSES" Contest winner, Scoreboard and the pending visit of a sports luminary to Glenknoll School.

There will also be a big name in sports at the Whittier Christian School banquet. Read about him and the event in the Page 12 story.

An account of the last Traffic Committee meeting and the recommendations made are in the article on Page 15.

One of the best fun events for the city's Tiny Tots occurs about this time of the year. The photo on Page 3 is more descriptive.

Kimberly is Second

It was a Saturday morning and one would expect that Kimberly Corrigan might be playing with her dolls, playing house, watching cartoons on television, romping with her friends or maybe going shopping with her parents.

Those are the activities usually associated with a first grader on a Saturday but this day, October 9, was sort of special for Kimberly Corrigan of Yorba Linda. The Mabel Paine School first grader WAS getting ready to go to a shopping mall with her folks but not for the expected reason.

Later that day she was on the stage in the Launa Hills Mall in El Toro with 27 other girls her age. Sitting down in front was a panel of judges. Kimberly was in the Miss South Bay Beauty Pageant.

Just like they do in the pageants for the older girls, Kimberly walked across the stage in a bright red, one piece swimsuit and a second time in a short light green dress. After the preliminary judging she was announced as one of the 10 finalists.

During that stage of the competition the contestants were each asked to answer a question. The emcee asked her: "How did you lose your two front teeth?" Standing proper and poised she replied: "I lost my two front teeth because a boy in my class kicked them out."

When the judges announced their final decision Kimberly was the second place winner among the 10 finalists and the original 28 girls. For her accomplishment she received a trophy and a bouquet of flowers.

Kimberly takes modeling from Karen Horn, a former Miss Yorba Linda.

OFF THEY GO—Led by Jack Fletcher of Yorba Linda Country Riders and Alex Valdez who is blind, Country Riders senior and junior members head for the El Cajon Trail for a long ride.

EXPERT ASSISTANCE is given by Wendy Taylor to Frank Vials as the latter, a blind boy, fits the bridle on the horse he rode in the ride for blind children sponsored by the Yorba Linda Country Riders. Wendy is a member of the Junior group.

Title IX Compliance

In June of 1974, the Office for Civil Rights of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare initiated action which ultimately brought into effect Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

In effect, Title IX states that "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

The Yorba Linda School District is in compliance with Title IX, and as required by the provisions of Title IX, notice of such compliance must be published in all local newspapers.

In addition, the District is an affirmative action employer committed to hiring on the basis of job qualifications for each position, taking into consideration the student population regarding ethnic origin.

Little Bits

Gary Wheelock, Yorba Linda native, was selected by the Seattle Mariners from the California Angels in the stocking of players by the American League expansion team. Wheelock is regarded as one of the most promising pitching prospects in baseball.

Further hearings on the Shapell Industries plans for development of the Upper K Ranch will be held tonight (Wednesday) at the 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Planning Commission in the library Multi-Purpose Room.

The 4-H float photo in last week's edition of the Star was incorrectly identified as the entry of the Cloverleaf Club. The photo was of the Kountry Kultivators' float with Randy Lafferty as the tractor driver.

The total valuation of building permits collected by the City of Yorba Linda since July 1 is $17,322,043. Over $5 million of this was received in October from 100 permits for additions and 71 for single family homes. The total figures almost double the amount for last year at the same date.

The Yorba Linda School District Board of Trustees will meet Thursday, Nov. 11. Due to legal technicalities the meeting is a "special" rather than a "regular" one. The designation is necessary because of the observance of Veteran's Day on that date.

Meeting tonight (Wednesday) is the Advisory Committee on Organization of School for Seventh and Eighth Grade Students. The group will meet tonight and next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Linda Vista School Multi-Purpose Room.

Lack of a quorum forced adjournment of the scheduled November 4 meeting of the Yorba Linda District Library Board of Trustees. The meeting has been reset for Thursday, Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the district office.

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts in Yorba Linda will begin knocking on doors Saturday, Nov. 13 to kick off the sale of tickets to the 1976 Scout-O-Rama to be held at the Anaheim Convention Center on December 11. Tickets are $1.

Blind Kids Have Treat

For some 20 blind children, November 6 will be a day they will long remember, thanks to the Yorba Linda Country Riders.

On that day, the local equestrian organization, both junior and senior members, treated the boys and girls from the Braille Institute to the joy of riding horses.

Everyone gathered in Nixon Park in the morning. The blind children were aided by junior Riders in brushing the horses and saddling them. Then they went on a more than an hour long ride on the El Cajon Trail.

Returning to the park, the youngsters were treated to a barbecued meal and entertainment by the Esperanza Chamber Singers and Michael & Company.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks to All

Dear Editor,

The Yorba Linda Service League wishes to express its appreciation to the entire community for its enthusiastic participation in Fiesta Days. The fact that so many individuals and organizations join in the celebration insures the special success of our community's annual event.

An extra thank you should go to Ray Metzger who supplied the sound equipment and did such a superb job of announcing the parade.

Jerry Rosenberg should also be accorded special thanks for her tireless efforts in organizing the splendid talent show we all so enjoyed.

Behind the scenes, many other people contribute to the success of Fiesta Days. We wish the Main Street merchants and the City Staff to know how much we appreciate their help and cooperation. The Cloverleaf 4-H Club should also be cited for its help in cleaning up the area around Nixon School.

And a heartfelt thank you from us all goes to Yorba Linda Disposal who, without pay or fanfare, takes care of the mountains of trash we manage to accumulate on that special day.

I am sure that you at the Star must know how much we appreciate your splendid coverage of our annual event.

So to you all, the Service League sends a heartfelt but inadequate thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Sherry Donaldson
Fiesta Days Coordinator

stopping on Palm Avenue south of La Pradera. Here she got out and tried to run to a nearby house, the girl said; but the driver caught her and pulled her over a slight embankment into an area covered with iceplant.

Although one or two cars passed on Palm during the attack, the girl said, the man held her mouth so she could not call out and again threatened to kill her.

Afterward, the man drove his victim home. But when he let her out, the girl said, she quickly copied down the license number of the car. Going inside, she told her father of what had happened; and he then called police.

Armed with the license number and a description of both car and driver, Orange police next day arrested on suspicion of rape Mike Roland Millan, 19, 2544 Frank St., Orange.

reinstatement "was not consistent with city rules and regulations." He insisted that a pre-hearing agreement between the OCEA and the city was a "live document which should be followed and not negated now." He requested council to sustain the dismissal.

Harker indicated after the decision that Bautista has legal options available including a writ of mandamus to the Superior Court. This would, in effect, suspend the carrying out of the action, until it is heard at that court level.

The hearing was filled with statements at various points by Mayor Henry Wedaa who took exception to "pre-judgment" of the case by the public and criticism over the funds spent on the matter;

Councilman Irwin Fried who read rules adopted by city ordinance which applied to the conduct of the hearing;

By Chaput who said he was "uncomfortable not knowing all sides" and who, at the conclusion of the meeting termed it "an example of some of the worst taste I've ever seen on the City Council" (this remark drew applause from the audience);

By Groot who reviewed Bautista's time of employment and offered his opinion on the appellant's abilities in the position prior to making his motion.

furthermore...

by Jim Arkison

Basking in the after-glow of Fiesta Days, the mood of the people seems to be still somewhat festive. I was going to devote this column to some reflections on that day but after making a list I realized it would take much more space than is usually allocated.

Instead, I put those reflections into a column of their own which you will find under "Fiesta Days Vignettes" on Page One.

I also needed some space here to comment on the election. Having arisen very early last Tuesday I could only stay awake until about 10:30 that night and so went to bed without knowing who were the winners and losers in the various contests.

I was not surprised by the Carter victory nor by the closeness of it. I was a bit surprised by the margin for Ford in Orange County, especially since the Republican margin in registration of voters had shrunk so drastically.

Along with everyone else, Republicans included, I raised my eyebrows on the Hayakawa win over Tunney. I speak of the GOP surprise in this contest's outcome because, just a few days before, a highly placed area Republican spoke disparagingly about his party's nominee.

I think what distresses the Republicans about "S.I." is his complete independence. If he carries that trait to Washington, and there is every reason to believe he will, the party will have a difficult time keeping him in line.

There were no upsets in the various area contests and none really had been expected. I understand that the jockeying has already begun for the seat in the run average of 3.09. He pitched a total of 207 innings and had two shutouts.

Dr. Jobe said simply: "It's all due to Tommy's great perseverance, desire and capability."

Tommy gives credit to his wife, Sally, and Ben Wade, director of scouting for the Dodgers, with helping to rebuild his confidence.

John was having one of his best seasons in 1974 when he injured the arm. He was 13-3 which brought his lifetime record to 124-106. The Dodgers acquired him in 1971 from the Chicago White Sox to whom they traded Dick Allen.

Joe Torre of the New York Mets was runnerup to John in the voting. Tommy had 10 of the 26 votes, Torre five, Buckner two and Russell one. Other players had two or one votes.

39th Congressional District after Chuck Wiggins serves out his two year term which he has said will be his last.

That will make for open and behind the scenes warfare in both parties as potential candidates line up strength for their bids for the seat.

Of more than passing interest to me was the defeat of the elected mayor proposal in Brea. I had been involved in such a situation in Azusa three years ago where a similar measure was approved. Although that approval theoretically did not give the elected mayor any more power it hasn't worked out that way. He has assumed more power.

I am in favor of a rotation system for council members to fill the position of mayor. This way each person gets an opportunity to have that honor. Outside of conducting the meetings, according to the code, the position is largely ceremonial, so every council member should have his or her turn at it.

In the "Small World" department, Dick Lasher who has won the paper's "Gridiron Guesses" Contest twice, came into the office to claim his prize. We talked football and I told him that I had put the Yale-Harvard game on Saturday into this week's contest. I used it because it is one of college football's traditional rivalries and both have good teams this season.

I mentioned it might be a difficult guess for some fans but he said it wouldn't be for him as he hails from Massachusetts and is familiar with both schools. That's where I'm from so we found we had a lot in common.

If you are familiar with the World War II era the phrase "Cupcake Commando" should sound familiar. That was the term applied to servicemen who frequented USO's and other types of service centers in their off-duty hours.

I was one. Being stationed in the downtown Los Angeles area for two and one half years, combined with being a non-drinker, I would venture to say that I visited every USO and service center in at least a 50 mile radius rather than visiting bars.

One of my hangouts was the Hollywood Canteen. I could devote many columns to the celebrities I met there and those whom I got to know.

This was brought to mind by a news release that said the USO is celebrating its 35th birthday and is still going strong.

Grass Roots Now Open

"I have always enjoyed working with plants in the yard and being outdoors. It just seemed natural to surround myself with greenery," says Jane Hill, proprietor of The Grass Roots, a new plant shop located in Santa Ana Canyon Plaza in Anaheim Hills.

The Grass Roots' interior gives one the feeling of being out-of-doors. Surrounded with greenery hanging from unfinished redwood rough beams and sunlight coming from skylights, one feels that you are close to nature.

Carrying out a contemporary, but earthy environment, the shop uses red Mexican tile and plants to create a garden setting.

Plants in the Grass Roots include the easy to grow pothos, to the ever popular ficus benjamin, the decorators dream tree.

The shop will feature many plants that are 8 to 10 feet high for the cathedral ceiling homes in the Anaheim Hills area.

Included in the shop are decorative accessories for plants, including plant stands, wall hangers, and colorful macrame holders. Also, a complete line of handmade earthenware pottery, bright glazed pottery and all types of baskets to house the various plants.

The shop is located at 5765 E. Santa Ana Canyon Rd. in Anaheim, near Imperial and the Riverside Freeway.

Raiders Trap Hawks 20-12

by Brian Hilderbrand
El Dorado's task of making the CIF football playoffs is getting more difficult as the season winds to an end. As it stands now, the Golden Hawks will have to beat the top team in 2A, La Habra, in the season final in order to finish in a second place tie.

La Habra, however, was upset by Esperanza, 29-23, last week. El Dorado was denied at least a second place tie by going down to defeat at the hands of the Sonora Raiders.

The Raiders beat the Hawks 20 to 12 Friday night at Bradford Stadium. Sonora capitalized on the Hawks' mistakes all night, turning two fumbles and an interception into touchdowns.

It was one such El Dorado miscue that gave the Raiders their initial score.

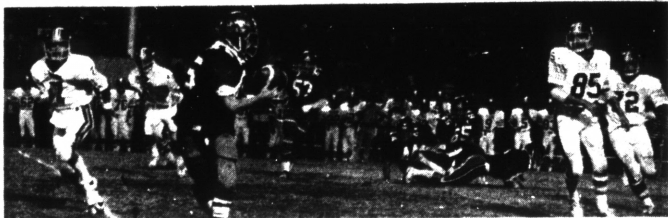

On the Hawks' first possession of the game, they fumbled the ball away at their own eight yard line. Sonora needed only two plays to score.

After a run by Jeff Parker that got them down to the five, quarterback Matt Switzer tossed a pass to Rick Hagedorn for the touchdown. Brian Greer's PAT kick was good to give the Raiders a 7-0 edge with 8:23 left in the first period.

El Dorado's Rick Hayes recovered a Raider fumble on the Hawks' own 37 yard line to set up their first touchdown.

Sean Olsen took the ball on the first play of the series (and the last of the first quarter) for a six yard gain to the 31. An incomplete pass set up a third down and three situation. Bosc got the call and broke several tackles en route to a 31 yard touchdown run up the left sideline. Frank Weber's PAT kick was not good, and Sonora held a slim 7-6 lead. With just one-and-a-half minutes to play in the first yards, another that was intercepted. The latter was grabbed by Dave Simpkins who returned it to the three yard line. Greer carried the ball in from the one for the final score. The PAT was no good, the score standing at 20-12.

CATCH ON THE RUN—El Dorado's Rick Hayes takes a pass for a good gain in the Hawk's homecoming game Friday night. The Hawks led through the first half of the game but were unable to score the second half and lost the game, dimming hopes for entering CIF playoffs. It will take a win over powerful La Habra Saturday night to get to the playoffs.

Although the Hawks out-rushed and out-passed the Raiders (148 to 76 and 115 to 72, respectively), El Dorado also outfumbled their opponents, four to two, which made the difference in the contest.

El Dorado will travel to La Habra Stadium on Saturday to face La Habra in a 7:30 game. The Hawks, 4-2 in fourth place, must win to secure a berth in the playoffs.
